Master Plan - Objectives

- Produce a Master Plan for the College of Arts & Architecture
  - Guide decisions about Esber
  - Inform long-term investments in facilities
  - Address the College Strategic Plan
- Create an Identifiable Arts District to foster public mission
- Focus on Immediate Priorities
- Review Big Ideas for the Future
- Integrate Arts & Architecture Master Plan into the UP Campus Master Plan
Significant backlog of major maintenance projects

  - Implications for ADA, HVAC, and other comfort issues.

No identifiable presence of the arts; buildings hide creativity within

Related programs are currently too dispersed to teach effectively

Deficiencies in laboratory spaces---performance and visual arts spaces

No appropriate space for interdisciplinary design (teaching for the future)

Operating in environment of restrictive capital and operating funding

Master Plan Program

Immediate Priorities

Facilities
- School of Music
  - New Recital Hall
  - Renovate Esber into large ensemble rehearsal space (Music I)
  - Moderate Renovation of Music I (sound isolation, etc.)
- Moderate acoustical renovations to Eisenhower
- Collaborative Design Labs / Visual Arts Expansion

Landscapes
- Allen Street Entrance to the Arts
- Arts Entry Plaza (Phase I)
  - Integral to New Recital hall
- Curtin Road Plaza at Visual Arts
  - Integral to Collaborative Design Labs / Visual Arts Expansion
Addressing Immediate Priorities: Priority One

SCHOOL OF MUSIC RECOMMENDATIONS
School of Music

- School lacks a proper recital space (Esber)
  - Integral part of curriculum, 325 recitals per year
- School lacks a proper large ensemble rehearsal space
- School has outgrown current ensemble spaces
- School lacks a proper large concert venue

Eisenhower, Downtown Theatre, and Schwab do not meet the needs of the School of Music

- Eisenhower Auditorium: Large Lyric Theatre
- Downtown Theatre: Theatre venue
- Schwab Auditorium: Multi-purpose facility; stage is small
Deficiencies of Existing Esber Recital Hall

Acoustics
- Inadequate acoustical space due to its lack of volume and shape
- Parallel house left and right walls create sound fluttering
- Stage left and right doors create poor acoustical conditions
- Front edge of the stage does not align with the acoustical reflector above
- Hall is poorly isolated from the rest of the building
- Existing mechanical systems and infrastructure transmit mechanical noise and vibrate
- Existing acoustical draperies are at the end of their useful life

Lobby, House, and Stage
- Not a proper “public face” of the School of Music and the College of A&A
- Existing stage not large enough
  — Only holds 20 optimal: target 45
- No ADA access to main lobby
- Inadequate lobby space and patron amenities
- Lack of performer support spaces back stage

Major Maintenance
- HVAC systems and lighting are at end of life
Addressing Immediate Priorities: Solve Esber

Findings
- Esber Recital Hall is not an adequate recital space for the School of Music
- Very disruptive and costly construction to renovate Esber into an adequate recital hall
- Esber could be converted into superior rehearsal spaces

Addressing Immediate Priorities: Solve Esber - Alternatives

A. Existing Hall: address MM ($2.5-4.0 M)
   – Do nothing except address MM
     • Scope includes HVAC and lighting in hall, with minor finish upgrades
   – No large ensemble rehearsal space
   – No sound isolation
   – Stage remains the same
   – Acoustical Grade: 4 out of 10
   – Seat count stays the same

B. Moderate Renovation of Esber ($5.0-6.0 M)
   – Renovates the Hall itself
     • Scope includes significant finish upgrades, change in geometry and MM scope
     • Roof elevation stays the same
   – No large ensemble rehearsal space
   – Mechanical noise significantly reduced, no adjacent space sound isolation
   – Stage size increased to optimally accommodate 45 musicians
   – Acoustical grade changes to 7 out of 10
   – Reduces seat count from 455 to 250; no balcony

Both options would close Esber for 12 months
1. School of Music Facilities
   - New Recital Hall
   - Renovate Esber into Large Ensemble Rehearsal Space + small rehearsal music classroom
   - Moderate Renovation of Music I

   ### Scope of Work:
   - Build a new 375 seat Recital Hall to the east of Music 1
   - Renovate Esber into Large Ensemble Rehearsal Space and smaller rehearsal space/music classroom
   - Minor renovation of ancillary Music 1 spaces adjacent to new rehearsal spaces, including sound isolation, mechanical, and electrical systems

   ### Benefits:
   - Creates an identifiable and engaging “public face” for the Arts
   - New recital hall with acoustical grade of 10 out of 10
   - Ideal rehearsal location adjacent to Music I
   - Esber would not be renovated until after new recital hall is built

   ### Cost: $14-16M + Landscape
   - Area: 11,000 GSF new construction + 18,000 GSF renovation

Center For Performing Arts

EISENHOWER AUDITORIUM
RECOMMENDATIONS
2. Eisenhower moderate acoustical renovations

- Acoustically grading potential on a Scale from 1 to 10 (for Large Lyric Theatre)
  - Existing Eisenhower Auditorium: 7
  - Eisenhower - - Light Renovation: 9

- Why is this a priority?
  - Eisenhower requires near-term maintenance investment
  - Improvements will enhance lyric and concert performances in the short term
  - Acoustical Improvements for School of Music in absence of a Concert Hall (provides options)
  - ADA issues need addressed

2. Eisenhower moderate acoustical renovations

- Scope of Work:
  - New orchestra shell + storage
  - Acoustical reflector
  - ADA renovations
  - Partial asbestos abatement / partial encapsulation
  - Lighting

- Cost: $5.5-6.5M

- Area: Reduction of 200 seats for ADA renovations

  Final seat count approximately 2,300

DEFINITION

- ex. New Media Labs, Digital Fabrication Labs, White Spaces
- Similar PSU Facility: None

- Why is this a priority?
  - Provide spaces that don’t currently exist in the college
  - Accommodate emerging programs at intersection of all disciplines
  - Enhance opportunities for collaborative learning and research

- Uses:
  - Teaching
  - Research
  - Design activity
  - Critique

Ideal Dimensions of Space: Varies
Ideal Volume: Varies
ADDRESSING IMMEDIATE PRIORITIES: VISUAL ARTS STUDIO CLASSROOM

DEFINITION

- Similar PSU Facility: 2nd Floor Visual Arts Building

- Why is this a priority
  - Studio spaces have been repurposed for dance, stage lighting, and audio convergence lab program expansions
  - Insufficient space and systems for types of material being used
  - Enhance opportunities for collaborative learning and research

- Uses:
  - Teaching
  - Research
  - Design activity
  - Critique

Ideal Volume: Varies
3. Collaborative Design Labs (new to College): Area: 28,280 GSF

- Scope of Work:
  - New Media/Make Labs
  - Digital Fabrication Labs
  - White Spaces (Studio + Research Studio Labs)

4. School of Visual Arts Expansion: Area: 35,262 GSF

- Scope of Work:
  - Long-term goal consolidates all visual arts program in expanded Visual Arts and Patterson
  - New student critique spaces and public galleries which don’t currently exist
  - Expansion to the ceramics area to provide adequate space
  - New support shops for construction & fabrication along with foundation spaces from dispersed locations
